GENERAL PERSHING INSPECTS AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION

(By Associated Press)
Coblenz, Friday, March 14.—Gen. Pershing, who is inspecting the fighting divisions of the American army of occupation, had his first sight today of American troops in combat formation on German soil. On a 600-acre plateau on the east bank of the Rhine, overlooking Coblenz and the winding river, he inspected the second division and presented more than 50 decorations. Later the division passed before him in dressed formation. He walked along the lines of soldiers, devoting more than an hour to the work. He questioned company commanders as to their quarters and in reference to conditions generally. He talked to scores of doughboys who were wound stripes inquiring if they had fully recovered and asking others if they wanted to go home. The plateau where the review took place was used for years by the 5 German army corps for the same purpose. In the afternoon Gen. Pershing inspected and reviewed the First Division which he helped to organize in Washington for service in France. The review took place at Nordbahnhof. After the review the commissioned and non-commissioned officers gathered in the center of the field and heard an address by Gen. Pershing.

London, March 15.—Nine sailors were drowned in the sinking of the American naval transport Yselhaven which struck a mine at 1.35 o'clock yesterday morning, according to a report from Lloyd's. The steamer was bound from Baltimore to Copenhagen. Thirty-five survivors have been landed at Hatterpool by a British steamer.

The Yselhaven, 3555 tons, was built in Rotterdam in 1916 and was taken over by the U. S. Shipping Board after the United States entered the war. The sinking probably occurred in the North Sea, as Hatterpool, where the survivors were taken, is on the western coast of England.

LONDON POOR STAND FOR HOURS AWAITING COAL

London, March 13. Correspondence of The Associated Press.—Coal queues, the terror of the poor of London, have again made their appearance because of an acute shortage in the coal supply, and thousands upon thousands of persons have been daily standing in line in the hope of getting enough coal to keep some kind of fire going in their humble homes.

A confounding and interesting sight early in the morning the number of customers appearing at some distributing point exceeds the number being disposed of by the local merchant. So they line up in the order of their arrival, and patiently wait until they are supplied, or are told by the merchant that he has no more by no means an infrequent development.

They buy small quantities for two reasons—some of them have little money to invest in coal at existing high prices, while the second cause is the lack of means to remove large quantities. Often perambulators provide the vehicle, but more often the purchaser tucks his "black diamonds" away in an old basket, and hurries on his way.

If the dealer is so fortunate as to have a ton or two of coal the queue will be maintained for hours in the biting cold. If his supply is short, he is soon sold out, and the queue dissolves, only to be reformed at some other place in the hope of finding more coal.

It often happens that persons of means approach the dealer, and offer high prices for quantities out of all proportion to the supply, and it is often recorded that the dealer will refuse the temptation, because he knows that his trade is among the people who are his regular customers, and they will not forget him when he has abundant coal to sell if the discrimination in favor of a casual but richer person.

So poor and rich alike have been suffering, and shivering, because no one really expected the temperature to drop as sharply as it has within the past few days. This winter to this time has been open and wet and shakeningly chilly, but not so cold as to cause actual suffering, even with a short fuel supply. But with the mercury hovering around 20 degrees above zero, "22 degrees of frost" they call it here, coal is a necessity.

The shortage of coal is ascribed to a number of reasons, chiefly the dilatory work of the miners who have demanded a six hour working day, and the scarcity of railroad cars. Coal supplies in all centers of population are far below normal, and there is no prospect of an immediate improvement in the situation. Many persons have sought other means of keeping warm. One old man and his wife, they are over eighty, have been in bed for a week because they have no coal in the house, and their daughter cares for them. Children also are being kept between blankets with success, but the sturdiest of the city must bear the burden as well as they can, with mighty little prospect of relief until the railroads are in better position, or the balmy days of spring come to chase away the necessity of artificial heat.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "biliousness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets which you feel "happy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. Buy a box. All druggists.

The Seniors of Trap Academy are making arrangements for the presentation of a drama, "Her Honor, the Mayor," at some date to be announced later.

J. E. Paul of Stinson street continues to improve from his illness.

It is expected that the coming week the District Nursing Association for Kittery and Eliot will be organized.

Alfred Stinson of North Kittery, who has been ill for several weeks, is improving.

Kittery people interested in the League of Nations should gather at the old First Parish church (Congregational) at Kittery Point, Sunday evening at seven o'clock, when they will be a discussion of the work now going on in behalf of civilization. The speakers will be the Rev. John A. Waterworth, minister of the parish; John Thaxter Esq., of Gerrish Island and Attorney Sleeper of Kittery Point and possibly others. The act of those few persons who voted on the Lodge-Place approval in this town meeting last Monday, after the business of the meeting had practically been concluded, is likely to be everwhisperingly repudiated. The town meeting vote was a disgraceful joke, and no more represents the sentiment of the town than some careless sentiment expressed in any other uncalculated and unrepresentative way. A later meeting is being planned for in Kittery.

DOVER

Dover, March 13.—The school committee held its regular meeting Thursday evening. Among other business transacted Sidney E. Taylor was re-elected as trustee officer and his salary was increased from $650 to $700. The Hospital club was given the free use of the high school assembly hall for the presentation of a drama.

Superintendent Wignat stated that the mechanical department of the high school was working under much difficulty at the present time, as students were obliged to waste much time walking to and from the place where they were now working. He stated that he felt the remedy would be to deal places for the work.

Maurice A. Freeman, one of Dover's leading retail clothing merchants, was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Cohen at Aubrey Street synagogue in Manchester. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Morris Tarn of Manchester, the couple being attended by Herman H. and David Cohen of Boston. Following their honeymoon they will reside at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Anna Freeman, 131 Washington street, in this city.

TO STOP WORK ON BRITISH NAVAL FLEET

London, March 13.—In introducing the Naval estimates for 1920, 60,000 officers and men and boys in the House of Commons, Walter Hume Long, first Lord of the Admiralty, said that until the Peace Conference decided what the world's armament for the future should be, it was idle to ask any naval expert to frame recommendations for the future.

He added that the British Navy intended to apply the lessons it had learned in the war in the development of the fleet. The number of men for which the vote was asked was the maximum from which it was hoped to work down. Work had been stopped on a great number of ships of all classes which were under construction when the armistice was signed.

Mr. Long said that while avoiding any expenditure that could be avoided, consistent with the safety of the country, the Government felt that it was its duty to see that the Navy was able to perform its double task of maintaining the integrity of the empire and playing a continuously leading part in preserving the peace of the world.

Replying to a question Thomas J. Macnamara, parliamentary secretary to the Admiralty, said that no dreadnaught battleships were under construction on Dec. 31 last. He added that four dreadnaught battleships were under construction on that date but work on three which were in early stages had been abandoned and the ships upon which they were being built had been freed for merchant ship construction.

On the same date, he said, Great Britain had thirty-three dreadnaught battleships and nine dreadnaught battle cruisers, all of which were in commission with the exception of one battleship and one battle cruiser. So far as he knew, no capital ships would be laid down this year.

Mr. Macnamara gave the provisional composition of the British Mediterranean squadron as six battleships, six light cruisers, a destroyer flotilla and a submarine flotilla.

VILLA FORCES OCCUPY TOWNS

Columbus, N. M., March 13.—Villa forces occupied Ascension, 65 miles south of the border, and Janes, 75 miles below the border, Friday, refugees from these settlements who reach at here last night reported. One group of refugees reported Francisco Villa in command of the column that occupied these two towns, but later reports were that Martin Lopez and Ramon Vega were in command.

QUARRYWORKERS' STRIKE AT CONCORD SETTLED

Concord, March 14.—At a second conference between representatives of the manufacturers, the quarry owners and representatives of Quarryworkers' International union, Local 32, a strike which had been on since March 1 was settled. Labor Commissioner John S. B. Davis presided at the conference as umpire.

The scale of Harre, Vt., was adopted, which gives the men an increase, according to the work they do, of from 3-8 to 10 cents per hour. The scale dates from March 1, 1919, and is to be in effect till May 1, 1920.

The men went on strike March 1, demanding a flat increase of wages of 10 per cent. This was refused, and the men went out, returning to work March 4, since when they have been in conference, through their committee, with the manufacturers.

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that makes men old and out. Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit. The kidneys are the most overworked organs in the human body. When they break down, unless the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism.

Do not wait until the danger is upon you. At the first indication of trouble go after the cause at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Nephritis Oil Capsules, imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. YEOMEN "F" LOSE IN BASKET BALL TO BOSTON GIRLS

Fast Game in Which the Visitors Win Out in the Last Period by Superior Passing

The Yeoman (F) basket ball team from the navy yard lost their game to the Boston Yeoman (F) team in a hard fought match at the Armory on Friday evening by a score of 19 to 12. The locals played fast in the first two periods when they were even with the visitors but on the last period the visitors outplayed the local team, both in passing and shooting. This along with the major foul called in the last period, the majority against the locals was a combination hard to beat.

The Boston team which has been defeating all of the teams about Boston, are a fast team and they have a star player in Miss Ryan at center. She is tall and with a long reach so that she could juggle the ball at will and she was also a good shot, scoring three of the baskets. This game was for the Championship of the First Naval District and it was witnessed by over 500 people. The visitors played a six girl team whereas the locals have only been playing five members.

In the first period the locals outplayed the visiting team scoring 6 to 4 points. The Boston team however took the lead in the second period which ended with a score of 12 to 10 in their favor. The third period was hard fought and it was here that penalties were frequent and the local team was penalized the most. Miss Ryan the Boston center here showed her skill and was the storm center of the game. She got excellent support from Miss Saxon and the other members of her team.

For the locals the work of Miss T. McCarthy and Miss Wilson were the features.

The score: Boston Portsmouth
Miss Winchman r. f. 1. g. Miss Bruce
Miss Saxon l. f. g. Miss H. McCarthy
Miss Ryan c. c. Miss Badger
Miss French s. c. s. c. Miss Parsons
Miss Lavery r. g. l. f. Miss Wilson
Miss Kyle l. g. c. f. Miss T. McCarthy
Score: Boston 19, Portsmouth 12.
Goals from floor: Miss Saxon 1, Miss Ryan 3, Miss Winchman, Miss T. McCarthy 3, Miss Wilson 3. Goals from fouls: Miss Ryan 3, Referee, Higgs, Thiner, Ayer, scorer, Herbert. Time, three ten-minute periods.

Following the game dancing was enjoyed until midnight with the visiting Yeoman (F), the guest of the local team.

BIG TROOP SAILING FROM FRANCE

Washington, March 14—Departure from French ports of eight transports and five war ships, having on board 17,000 officers and men, was reported from the war department today. 5,000 of the men were from the 37th Ohio National Guard unit and 1500 from the 36th Texas and Oklahoma National Guards.

GREAT DEMAND FOR DEBATE TICKETS

Boston, March 14—The rush is on for tickets to the Lowell-Lodge debate. Applications are being received at the headquarters of the committee, 49 Mt. Vernon street, faster than the staff of 40 clerks engaged in opening and sorting the mail can handle them. It is estimated that 15,000 requests for seats have been received. The seating capacity of the hall is 3000.

Reports from the postoffice this morning show that although the mail seeking tickets for President Wilson's address in Mechanics Hall was heavier, the mail for the Lowell-Lodge debate promises to rival it not exceed the Wilson mail before the time for filing requests expires. Twelve o'clock noon tomorrow is the final hour for applications for tickets. All requests must be made in writing and be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Many of the applications are amusing. One woman wrote she would sooner attend the debate than attend the Johnson-Jeffries fight. Many state if the tickets were on sale they would pay any sum to obtain a seat or even standing room.

Letters have been received from all parts of this state, from various parts of New England, and this morning telegrams were received from New York. An application from Utica, N. Y., is the longest distant request received to date. National, state and city officials have sent in requests.

UNREST SPREADING TO THE ORIENT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 14—Official advice reaching the state department describe the independence movement in Korea, as a spontaneous movement and with no real leadership. Demonstrations have been held all over the country, and in some cases conflicts with the Japanese, but there is a tendency on the part of the Japanese to treat the demonstrations lightly. The demands of Korea are for freedom of speech, independence and the right to teach their own language in their own schools.

COAL HEADS MUM ON PRICE PROBE

Philadelphia, March 14—Anthracite coal operators today were disinclined to comment upon the action of Gov. Sprout in inquiring of Atty.-Gen. Schaffer whether the state had authority to investigate the reasons for the advance in prices by producing companies.

The Governor said some mines were on short time, due to slackening demand, and he was at a loss to understand the commercial or economic justification for increasing prices at this time.

The Governor's action prompted by the announcement of several large companies that present prices would continue until May 1, when 10 cents a ton would be added each month for five months.

BROWN OFFERS SUMMER WORK

Providence, R. I., March 14—Brown University plans to hold a summer session this year to enable students whose course has been interrupted by the war to make up for some of the time lost.

Courses are to be offered in most of the regular departments of study. The session will be open to all students of the university and also to teachers and others qualified. The term will extend over five weeks from June 30 to August 30. Students who returned to college in January will thus be able to complete a full year's work before Sept. 1.

SIMES SAW THE WAR COMING

(By Associated Press)
London, March 14—Vice Admiral W. S. Simes in his farewell speech before the American Luncheon club here today said that in 1910 when the 16 American ships were in English waters, he submitted reports to the department that in his opinion that war could not be put off more than four years, and that this country would be found allied with the English and fighting hand in hand.

BIG SHIPS FOR SO. AMERICA

Washington, March 14—Plans of the shipping board for the establishment in the near future of regular passenger and freight steamship service between the United States and South and Central American countries, through the use of 22, 12,000-ton vessels now under construction, were disclosed by Chairman Hurley yesterday in an address at a meeting of the Pan-American Union and others interested in Latin-American trade. "These ships," said Mr. Hurley, "will make weekly trips to the ports of Central and South America. Accommodations on these ships will be as fine as on any transatlantic liner. They must be made so in order to invite travel between North and South America."

Chairman Hurley, referring to the necessity of inaugurating the steamship service at the earliest possible moment, said the ports of Buenos Aires, Montevideo, Valparaiso, Santos, Rio de Janeiro, and La Guayra must be included in the service. Many of these ports, he said, had port facilities far superior to those in the United States.

New plans for cable and radio service with Latin America were referred to by Mr. Hurley, who said he would not be surprised if within a few years American companies would be able to place orders in South America by wireless telephone.

William P. G. Harding, governor of the federal reserve board, another speaker, said that the board was doing all in its power to foster relations between the two continents and had authorized a number of banks to establish branches in Central and South America.

Under the provision of the Victory Liberty loan bill, authorizing $1,000,000 extension of credit for the purpose of promoting foreign trade, Gov. Harding said it was the duty of the United States to aid the industries of Latin America as well as those of Europe.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Rags said that England won by four years of war, could not meet Latin American needs as rapidly as the United States. He said the present demand from South America for American goods was less than many business men expected, because the merchants of South America were left to buy stock on a falling market, and also because freight rates were still high.

The program for the conference of the class and alumni secretaries includes a reception by President Hopkins, given Friday afternoon, a banquet and several business meetings. Among the list of speakers at the banquet last evening were President Hopkins, Dean Craven Laycock '06 and Prof. Edward J. Hartlett '22.

He said that the League of Nations would not be worthy to its name unless it becomes a part of the treaty of peace, and eliminated race prejudices.

EXTRA WEAR FROM SHOES

"A year ago I had my shoes resoled with Neolin Soles. The soles are still in service, and it looks as if I will not be able to wear them out, because the uppers are going first," said W. C. Dickinson, of New Haven, Conn.

Good repair shops everywhere carry these tough and durable soles, or let for yourself how long they last by having them put on a pair of old shoes. Or if you are in need of new shoes, buy them with Neolin Soles. They cost no more than shoes that give little wear, and you need fewer pairs. They come in many styles for men, women, and children.

Neolin Soles are created by Science to be comfortable and waterproof, as well as long-wearing. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make "Warrior" heels—guaranteed to outwear other heels.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LED IN CROP PRODUCTION

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., March 14—That New Hampshire achieved first place in the percentage of increased average of farm crops in 1917 and 1918 was disclosed in figures made public today at the headquarters of the State Food Production Committee. The computations are based on the official figures of the Bureau of the Crop of Estimates maintained by agriculture.

In the summer of 1917, under the leadership of Huntley N. Spaulding, chairman of the state committee on food production, the average on staple crops in New Hampshire increased by 15 per cent over the average of the same crops in 1916. This percentage of increase is nearly three times as great as the average New England state. Connecticut, which showed 14 per cent, increased average.

In 1918 Chairman Spaulding had secured Federal Food Administrator and the war still connected with the Food Production work, the actual planning and direction of the entire campaign was placed in the hands of a State Food Production Committee composed of Huntley N. Spaulding, Andrew L. Pelzer, George M. Putnam, Fred A. Rogers, and Al H. White, chief with President D. D. Hackett acting as executive manager. That the committee and the members of the state college staff, including the county agricultural agents, worked through a remarkable campaign is shown by the still further increase. In 1918, New Hampshire increased its average of staple farm crops by 68 per cent over 1917. This is more than three times the percentage of increased average of the nearest competitor among New England states, which was Vermont, with an increase of 16.6 per cent over 1917.

The above figures include the staple farm crops that are reported on by the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates for New Hampshire, and do not include wheat, in which New Hampshire made an extraordinary percentage increase.

GERMANS NOW IN BELGIUM TO BE DEPORTED

Brussels, March 14—Despite the passing of a law providing for the expulsion of enemy subjects from Belgium, numerous German civilians are often seen walking the streets of this city and other large cities in Belgium at the present time. While the law went into effect more than a month ago, the Belgian government is experiencing as much difficulty in getting the enemy civilians out of the country as the Allied soldiers had in expelling the enemy army from the trenches.

The Minister of Justice has found this undertaking a greater one than he had expected. In the Belgian Chamber Deputy Lamondier, who acted as burgomaster of Brussels during the enforced absence of Burgomaster Max de Presbourg-Jolly and will be removed himself to Germany, I asked Minister of Justice Vandervelde what measures he intended taking to expel the undesirable beyond the Rhine. Deputy Lamondier brought the minister's attention to the fact that several Germans were walking the streets of Brussels with impunity and that some of them had been recognized as being paid agents of the Kommandantur during the occupation. Vandervelde replied: "The Ministry of Justice is doing its utmost to rid the country of German civilians but the difficulties encountered are formidable. In time of peace undesirable are deported to their frontier but since the signing of the armistice, the Allied General Staff had refused absolutely to allow Germans to pass through the zone of occupation. Holland permits them to go through the country but not singly. Groups only are allowed in transit. At the present time one train of undesirable is being daily.

An idea of the number of Germans in Belgium before the war and the still greater number who have elected to make it during the occupation what they thought would be their permanent living place, may be gathered from the fact that trains are expected to leave for weeks and perhaps for months.

The case of German subjects who have resided in Belgium for long years, have married Belgian women and whose sons fought against the Germans, is particularly sad. Under the terms of the law they should be expelled along with the others, but they have remained enemy subjects. Vandervelde said however: "It is impossible for me to send that class of Germans out of the country."

Portsmouth, N. H., Saturday, March 15, 1919.

Welcome News From Washington.

One of the best pieces of news to come from Washington in some time is the announcement that the postal service of the country is to be improved. The need of improvement has been urgent for a long time and the promise of early action will be welcomed by all classes.

The Postol Department recently called upon some 15,000 business men for suggestions for the betterment of the service, which were promptly forthcoming, as most of the men were in a position to offer suggestions worth considering without stopping long to think. As a result instructions have been issued to postmasters and postal employees with a view to removing many of the causes of complaint.

Assistant Postmaster General Koons says the Department welcomes suggestions and recommendations in connection with the postal service and gives assurance that those received from this large number of business men will be given the attention to which they are entitled, and that without unnecessary delay.

Mr. Koons states that many of the business men addressed indicate that the service has been satisfactory and adequate, but certainly that is not the attitude of the general public, which has been growing loudly for a long time about the inadequateness of the service. There has been emphatic protest from publishers and the business public generally against the chaotic condition of the mail service, as is clearly attested by the fact that the men at the head of the Department have awakened to the truth that it is time for something to be done.

The public has been willing to make allowance for war conditions. It realized that with the number of trains greatly reduced the service could not be maintained at the old standard, but not all of the trouble has been caused by the taking off of trains, for the service has varied miserably over the same routes from day to day and week to week, sometimes being fairly satisfactory and at other times utterly disgraceful.

The postal service is one of the most important performed by the government for all the people. The people are willing to pay the cost, but they want the service promptly and reliably performed, something which has not been done for many long and weary months. It is none too soon to restore this branch of the government work to a peace basis, and the promise to do this will cause satisfaction and relief in many quarters.

There has been much complaint of delay, damage and loss in connection with parcel post matter, but it is probably true, as claimed, that this has to a considerable extent been due to careless packing and the use of poorer containers than were used before the war. Senders of this class of mail should co-operate with the Department in removing causes for complaint, and with such co-operation there should soon be a decided change for the better, especially in view of the fact that postal employees have been notified that undue carelessness and negligence on their part will result in their dismissal.

This is encouraging. Reform in this field is due and overdue, and it cannot be brought about too soon.

William Jennings Bryan endorses the League of Nations, but in a friendly way offers suggestions for a few changes in its constitution. This is quite different from the hammering administered by men who are evidently more interested in discrediting the President than they are in perfecting the League.

The state of Maine will not have to buy the Blaine mansion at Augusta to be used as a residence for the governor. It has been presented by Mrs. Harriet Blaine Beale, daughter of the distinguished statesman, and the gift is one that will be appreciated by every citizen of the state.

How this prohibition business is shaking up the country, to be sure! Easton, Mass., at its annual town meeting a few days ago voted "Yes" for the first time in 25 years, and there have already been 17 applications for license.

There are many men in the country—even right here in New Hampshire—who would rejoice if their cellars were as well stocked as is the police station against the coming drought.

Parents who are relieved by the disappearance of ice from the ponds must bear in mind that the swimming season is only a few months distant, and that this also has its dangers.

President Wilson returns to France with the determination to "expedite" the work of the Conference. That's the right word.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Men of Might

(From the Kennebec Journal)
 That coming debate between Senator Lodge and President Lowell of Harvard ought to be worth listening to. Wish those men were America's delegates to the Peace Congress. In place of—or, well, the whole present bunch!

The League in A Nutshell

(From the Springfield Union)
 The question really is, does our future safety lie in standing alone in a fighting world or in standing in with a peaceful world?

Making Room

(From the New York Herald)
 Jersey woman demands that works of Dickens and other authors who while engagingly of drink and drink must be banished. And when private libraries of nation have shrunk to "Ten Nights in a Barroom" and "Life of John B. Gough" in the five-foot shelf will be handy for the family crockery.

Mad At Everybody

(From the Richmond Times-Dispatch)
 Home idea of the intelligent spirit with which the British Government has to contend in its effort to give the Irish people some rule and order is shown in the following scraps of uncompromising bitterness with which President Wilson is assailed by the Dublin Irish World because of his refusal to try to negotiate with Great Britain the policy of the British Empire in regard to Irish independence. Says the Irish World:

Wilson bids fair to be ranked as the archhypocrite of the world, a silver-tongued traitor to a trustful democracy. The world has put this liar on a pedestal and made him a small god. Cromwell and his hordes were merely a noisy butchery in comparison to Wilson and his mouth of social philosophy.

In the view of the Irish press it may be supposed that the "ex-Kaiser" in comparison with Wilson is a saint whose virtues entitle him to rank with St. Patrick.

New Sources Of Taxable Income

(From the New York World)
 The decision of the Internal Revenue Bureau that winnings at pool are taxable income and that a moonshiner may deduct losses incurred in the running of his still indicates that the full scope of the income tax law is not as yet comprehended. By this token, race-track bets, bets won at golf or on election and all forms of wagers must be taxable. If the profits from moonshining are taxable income, the proceeds of horse games also, and of counterfeiting, and burglary? Must something else keep back?

It is evident that there are more angles to the income tax than had been supposed. Income for purposes of taxation is apparently everything that comes in, regardless of the source. The theory may conflict with the point code in some cases, but it is suggestive in the Government's attempt to tax all sources of "unearned money" as respects the title of it. To Uncle Sam as to the Roman Emperor, money, money, "does not smell" when it is in the grasp of treasury revenue.

It is clear that conclusions persons who desire to pay the Government its just due, no more and no less, must do an amount of bookkeeping they never dreamed of. But as respects those whose income is derived from shady pursuits they have reason to thank a candid Government for allowing them to prove their patriotism without the penalty of an unpleasant publicity.

Washington Makes A Discovery

(From the New York Sun)
 Washington has discovered that the Industrial Workers of the World is a revolutionary society whose object is to destroy the Government of the United States and to disrupt society as it is now organized.

The discovery is interesting, but it is somewhat belated.
 The Industrial Workers of the World has been in existence since 1901 and from the day of its organization it has preached and practiced revolution when ever and wherever it had a chance.

Its organizers have travelled about the country seeking industrial disputes and creating industrial disputes to gain opportunities to carry on the programme of violence they openly advocated.

They have never tried to hide their purpose or to deceive anybody with regard to their objects.

Whether they have been practising sabotage in New Jersey silk mills, teaching waiters to poison food in New York, driving spikes in fruit trees on the Pacific coast, burning wheat in the Middle West, or destroying machinery in copper mines, they have not pretended at any time to be anything except revolutionists.

The simple souls who have supported them have at no time lacked authentic information about the Industrial Workers of the World.

The politicians who have prevented their prosecution for the crimes they committed have had ample opportunity to learn exactly what their philosophy was.

The public has recognized them for fifteen years for what they are. It is encouraging to learn that even Government officials now know the purpose of the Industrial Workers of the World, and eventually we may be thrilled with the announcement that "something must be done about it."

Not "Labor": Robbery

(From "Gardner's Talk of the Day" in the Philadelphia Press)
 Seated happily beside my old friend the Coal Baron at a large dinner, I asked him:

"How's coal?" "Rotten," said he, "never so rotten."

"What makes it that way?" I continued, thinking of the high price.
 "Some of our miners get $150 a month pay," said the Baron, "and they could earn double that if they would work six days a week, which they refuse to do. Just now our mines operate only one day a week."

He is a soft coal Baron, not an anthracite Baron. Wanting to hear an explosion I mildly inquired:

"Have you raised wages much?"

"Only 191 per cent since the war started," was the answer.

A ton of coal when it reaches your boiler is largely labor. For every dollar the mine operator received for his output, ninety cents went into work.

Defends the Board

Editor—I noticed an article in the morning paper under the heading, "Board of Health in Jail." This heading is entirely correct as the majority of the members of the Board of Health are in jail with a certain crowd of dictators, reformers, etc., and there is certainly no regret on our part that such is the fact. Regardless of this startling heading the only crime we have committed is the terrible one of using our own judgment for the best interests of the city of Portsmouth as we see it, and refusing to be dictated to by the self-appointed guardians of our city. If that is a crime our readers can make the most of it.

THE COMING SUMMER.

Maybe it Will Be One of the Hottest Summers We Ever Had.

It seems that the winter in 1887-79 was extraordinarily mild. In fact about the same way that this winter has been. "Farmers' near Boston—they had them in 1870—blasted their spring ploughing in March. There was no reaction of the cold weather—no killing spring frost."

And what happened then? People said that the winter preceding the terribly cold summer of 1816, when there was no crop except hay, was exceptionally mild, and predicted a cold summer in payment for the warm winter. Nothing of the kind happened. On the other hand, the summer of 1879 was the hottest that had been recorded for 108 years!

The hemispheres on both sides of the Atlantic groaned beneath the rays of a sun that seemed to be seven times heated. The mercury had in June, for many successive days, gone up above 100 degrees. But now in July, and the first half of August, it appeared as if the south winds blew from a land of fire. If thunderstorms came they failed to cool the fevered air. The first week in July the mercury exposed to the sun ran up 119 degrees. On Sunday, July 17, it rose in the sun to 129 degrees Fahrenheit. The mean temperature of the week ending July 9 was 79.55 degrees Fahrenheit. • • • To the end of July and on to the middle of August the weather all over the North was such as is usually experienced in the hot season in Burma. Aug. 3 the mercury at Milwaukee was 100 degrees in the shade and 130 degrees in the sun! Even so late as Sept. 25 the thermometer at New York exhibited 90 degrees in the shade. There is no question but what the summer of 1879 will be a memorable one in weather records. It seemed as if the Apocalyptic angel had "emptied his vial upon the sun and power was given that lightning to scorch men with fire, and men were scorched with great heat."

Rev. 16:9-9. No one in this country remembers such protracted and intense heat.

If the exceptionally warm winter of 1918-19 is to be followed by such a summer as that which followed the mild 1869-70, it behooves the inhabitants of Boston to lose no time in engaging their cottages for the coming summer.—Boston Evening Transcript.

BIG AUTO RACE DRAWS HUGE CROWD

(By Associated Press)

Santa Monica, Calif., March 15.—Seventeen drivers, most of them nationally known, were to compete today in the annual Santa Monica road race one of the leading events in automobile racing. Despite recent heavy rains the macadamized course appeared in first class condition and it was predicted that records would be established. The winner will receive $4000, and the second, third and fourth men $2500, $1500 and $1000 respectively. In former years 100,000 persons have witnessed the race and early estimates today placed the crowd above that figure. The course is 7.36 miles long and the distance 250 miles, making it a 34 lap event.

MORE BOYS BACK FROM OVERSEAS

(By Associated Press)

New York, March 15.—The steamer Hollandia arrived today from West with 1025 troops, including the 102nd Field Battalion Signal Corps. There were 150 nurses aboard.

Americans and Britishers residing in the United States who made trouble on board the transport Taton because they were not put ashore and sent to their homes from Halifax after receiving discharges from the British army, arrived here today on the vessel.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Injured Guard Back.

Edward J. Money, a former sergeant of the marine guard, who has been serving in France, has returned to the local port arriving on Friday from Norfolk. He was badly wounded in the left arm at Belleau Wood and is still on the injured list. He was promoted to the rank of Second Lieutenant while overseas.

Business Dropping Off

The court martial board has tried 40 cases so far at the Charlestown yard this year. Last year the board heard 1373 cases.

New Yard Commandant.

Rear Admiral Samuel S. Hobson, who has been serving on the Inter-Alled Naval Armistices Commission, was detailed Friday as commandant of the Boston navy yard.

Rear Admiral James H. Glennon was assigned to command the 3d Naval District, with headquarters at New York, replacing Rear Admiral Fisher who is soon to retire.

Capt. Henry A. Field, formerly of the Portsmouth yard, succeeds Admiral Glennon in charge of the Puget Sound navy yard.

Rear Admiral Benton C. Decker was ordered to take charge of the Key West Naval Station and the 7th District.

The U. S. S. Topolka, formerly an auxiliary prison ship here, will be ready for duty in two weeks at the Charlestown yard. Just what line of duty she will be assigned to is not known even by the officers.

Lost Good Job.

A 19-year-old youth protested his discharge at the Charlestown yard recently, on the ground that he had not done anything that warranted it. He was confronted with the fact that he could not account for $10 worth of tools which he had mislaid and this constituted negligence. He was being paid $1.52 per day.

Will Send Body Home

The body of Commander Edward G. Blakeslee of Cambridge, who was sent to communications to Admiral Sims, and who died in London a few days ago from pneumonia, is to be brought to this country on the Louisville. He was stationed at the Charlestown yard previous to being sent to Europe. He had been married but a short time before his death.

A Fast Game.

The yeoman (F) of the First Naval District, Boston, certainly deserved much credit in the fast basket ball game played against the Portsmouth yeomen (F) on Friday night. The work of Miss Ryan as center was especially fine, and she showed great knowledge of the game from start to finish.

Not so Bright at Boston

Work on several of the ships at the Charlestown navy yard was stopped on Friday owing to the lack of money and orders for a big cut down in several departments is expected at any time. Nearly every department in the yard will be affected.

Going Out Tuesday

The transport Ronoke is expected to get away from the local yard on Tuesday morning for a trial trip.

Helpers Called

Thirty general helpers were required by the Industrial Department today.

(By Associated Press)

New York, March 15.—Preliminary action toward testing the constitutionality of the war time prohibition act, was taken today by a stockholder suit in the Federal Court against James Everard's Breweries. Everard, asked the court for a restraining order upon the defendants against stopping its manufacturing activities on May 1st next and its sales July 1st as required by the Federal statute.

414 OF 516 DEATHS IN

A. E. F. FROM PNEUMONIA

Washington, March 14.—Satisfactory health conditions in Army camps at home, with a decided decline in the number of influenza and pneumonia cases, is noted in the report of the surgeon general for the week ending March 7, made public today. The report from France is not so satisfactory. There were three times as many cases of pneumonia in proportion as there were among the troops at home, and out of a total of 516 deaths in the expeditionary forces during the week, 114 were due to pneumonia.

FOYE'S

OLD INDIAN FIGHTER CLOSING STIRRING LIFE

Rockland, Me., March 11.—An adventurous career was ended today with the death of Charles A. Harriman, aged 64 years. He ran away from home when a youth to enlist in the navy, in which he served for nine years. His activities included service as a Texas Ranger, as a member of the mounted police in Montana and as a deputy United States marshal in Kansas. He fought against the Indians and was wounded in a skirmish.

In 1881 Harriman won the national championship as a long distance pedestrian, walking 520 miles and 240 yards in a six day race in Chicago.

Returning to Maine he took up evening work and also was active in the leadership of several industrial strikes. He is survived by a widow and five children.

SHOWING UP THE WAR DEPARTMENT

Washington, March 11.—Evidence that some one in authority in the War Department sought to mislead the public regarding an official clash between General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, and Major General Crowder, provost marshal general, was provided yesterday by Harvey's Weekly, which produced an official bulletin substituting a charge denied by the War Department several weeks ago. The bulletin proves that General March repudiated the provost marshal general.

On Feb. 1, the War Department press representative, Mr. Pew, gave what purported to be a complete explanation of the matter. In effect he said that the entire article was built upon a misconception and that General March had not repudiated the man who had received the plaudits of the entire nation for his successful building of the selective service army.

This dispatch under the heading "Crowder and March Differed; No Repudiation," was printed in the Transcript that day.

Washington, Feb. 4.—It was stated officially today that the War Department records showed that Provost Marshal General Crowder never had been repudiated by General March for any cause, and that there was no mark against General Crowder's entire military record. The files showed letters exchanged by Secretary Baker, General March and General Crowder dealing with differences of opinion regarding the draft program, but that there had been no repudiation.

Here is the damning evidence that some one lied, contained in an official bulletin to every member of the General Staff:

"The Chief of Staff repudiates the Provost Marshal General."

"The Chief of Staff repudiates the Provost Marshal General for having transgressed beyond his authority. He will revoke certain orders which he has issued and will issue none hereafter without authority from the Chief of Staff."

RAILROAD NOTES

Conductor Charles B. Bonicle of the B. & M. passenger service, who has been ill at his home in this city with pleurisy is much improved and will shortly be able to resume his duties.

The following order has been issued by the Boston and Maine railroad: Women and children will not be permitted to accompany troop movements in special cars or special trains regardless whether or not they offer to pay their own fare.

Special permission and arrangements may be made by the army authorities for Red Cross personnel to accompany movements of sick and wounded if the same is desired.

The clerical force in the local ticket office of the Boston and Maine received on Friday, back pay on a new schedule which dates back to Sept. 1918.

Two special cars were attached to train No. 37 on Friday, Boston to Portland with soldiers returning to Maine from overseas duty.

The railroad officials are reporting quite an increase in freight traffic over the B. & M.

Good much talk of change in the passenger train schedule which was to appear in January and later February, appears to be a dead issue and no changes of any importance are now expected until the regular annual change occurs in June.

MILLIONS WILL ROLL IN TO-NIGHT.

Washington, March 15.—About four million persons and business concerns are expected to file income or profits tax returns before tonight and to pay the first 25 per cent installment of tax which probably will aggregate between $800,000,000 and $1,000,000,000.

This tremendous inflow of money to tax collectors' offices will be counterbalanced by an outflow of about $500,000,000 to redeem certificates of indebtedness issued last Nov. 7 in anticipation of the tax collections today.

By this means the treasury plans to minimize the dislocation of bank funds and to accomplish the enormous transfers without disturbing business conditions.

A large majority of business concerns and persons with complicated sources of income will file tentative estimates, according to reports reaching the revenue bureau Friday. They will be required to pay one-fourth of the estimated tax and will have a month and a half in which to prepare their final returns.

Many tax collectors, finding their offices swamped Friday with applicants for special advice or information urged the filing of tentative returns and the working out of accurate reports later, when the revenue authorities are relieved of the 11th hour rush.

Penalties are provided for failure to file returns with collectors by tonight but it was stated Friday that leniency would be shown in the cases of those whose returns arrived a day or two late. Returns mailed by tonight will be accepted.

While the Chemical was out another call came from Peverly Hill road where a grass fire had reached such proportions that it was necessary to summon the department and the auto wagon from the Central station responded.

YOKEL DEFEATS JOE TURNER IN STRAIGHT FALLS

Mike Yokel, the middleweight champion, did not lose his title Thursday evening. He won from Joe Joe Turner, the Richard K. Fox belt-holder, in straight falls at the Grand Opera House in a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match for the championship.
It looked at one stage of the first bout as if Turner would defeat Yokel or his hard-earned honors, but an accident changed the complexion of things.
Yokel had a leg hold on Turner which he decided was not the right grip to turn the trick, so he decided to change. In making the shift he had in mind, he slipped and his knee landed on Turner's stomach. After that Joe was out of luck. The accident gave Yokel the fall in 53 minutes.
Turner was put down with a body scissors in the second bout, Yokel turning him over in seven minutes. The injury to Turner ruined what looked like a match that would be the most brilliant of the season.

EDUCATIONAL BILL FAVORED BY SCHOOL MEN

The annual teachers convention for Rockingham County was held at Exeter on Friday and practically all of the teachers from this city were present.

It was one of the best conventions of recent years, the program was interesting and well done. Deputy State Superintendent J. N. Pringle had a very fine address and Hon. H. C. Morrison former State Superintendent and now commissioner of Education in Connecticut, was present and spoke for State Supt. Butterfield who was unable on account of illness to be present.

Mr. Morrison was very warmly received and he made a most interesting talk. He was very enthusiastic in his praise of the educational bill which has just passed the Legislature and said that when it was finally a law and he was confident that the Senate would approve it and knew that Governor Bartlett would sign it, the state of New Hampshire would be about four years ahead of every state in New England. It was in his opinion a thoroughly up-to-date educational bill, and one that was sure to greatly improve the school conditions of the state.

"IS GOD TIRED OF KINGS"

Mrs. Kate Upson Clark, a most delightful and helpful speaker, who has power to charm her hearers, will be heard at the North Congregational church on Sunday evening. It has been said that her power to stimulate elevate and encourage is unmistakable. Her subject will be, "Is God Tired of Kings?"

CANADIANS DISLIKE ENGLISH OFFICERS

(By Associated Press)
Ottawa, March 15.—Col. C. W. Peck of the Canadian army and a member of Parliament, charged in the House of Commons today that the Canadians found the British officers very unsympathetic. He said that he would see that the name of Sir Charles Ferguson, military governor of Coburne would "stick" in the nostrils of every honest man.
Col. Peck made a vigorous defense of Sir Arthur Currie who was recently charged by Gen. Sam with carelessness of the men of the regiment, and said that the Canadians were a live force.

HE TALKED ON THE NEW BRIDGE

At a banquet tendered the New Hampshire Senate and the Portsmouth delegation in the legislature at the Derryfield Club, Manchester, on Thursday, Congressman Burroughs, one of the speakers, gave quite a good part of his address to the proposed memorial bridge across the Piscataqua River. During his talk he said he was watching with interest the work of the New Hampshire legislature on this bridge matter and hoped that nothing would be done to block this project. He also stated that the state representatives in Washington were busy all the time on the bridge question and that the government would do its part when the states of Maine and New Hampshire had passed the bills making the first appropriation for the structure to be erected in memory of the sailors and soldiers who gave their lives in foreign battlefields for their country.

FORMER PORTSMOUTH PASTOR
DOES ABLE WORK IN CONCORD

The First Methodist Episcopal church of Concord, closed a most successful year's work under the pastorate of Rev. F. J. Scott, as shown by the reports of the various societies to the Fourth Quarterly Conference, held at the church Thursday night. There was a full attendance of the membership of the conference. It was evident that a most cordial relationship exists between pastor and people. The conference not only unanimously but enthusiastically requested the reappointment of Mr. Scott to the church for the ensuing conference year—Concord Daily Patriot.

September, 1918.

The United States labor office at 85 Market street was closed today by order received from Washington on Friday. This office was opened in September, 1918, and has been in charge of Richard A. Conney since it was established. The failure of Congress to pass the necessary appropriation during the last session is said to be the real cause for discontinuing this branch of the government.

WORKING NIGHTS
ON THE INCOME TAX RETURNS

The closing days for filing the income tax returns have caused much activity at the federal building and the force there and field men in the district are working overtime.

On Friday Collector Jones had every available employee on duty at the headquarters. Thirty or more worked all night and another crew will work tonight. Nearly 100 men and women are now on duty here.

THE HERALD HEARS

That more than one man says he would rather have commitment papers for the insane asylum served on him than tackle another income tax return.

That it appears that not all of the Kittery people are in sympathy with the vote cast there on Monday last regarding the League of Nations.

That Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey's circuses have combined with Ringling Bros. as proprietors of the big institution.

That the merger is the most important in the history of both shows.

That the weather prophets tell us of a dry hot summer.

That one man's guess is as good as another's in this line.

SPRING MEDICINE

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is Needed Now
As Never Before.

Because, although the war is over, its work, worry and excitement have undermined your reserve strength.

Because the coughs, colds, grip and maybe severe illness, have broken down your power of resistance.

Because winter work and close confinement have worn out your stomach and exhausted your blood.

Can you afford the good long rest, the doctor advises?

If not, take a course of the famous old medicine—the one that mother used to take—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It's the finest extract of Nature's purifying, vitalizing and strength-making roots, herbs, barks and berries, such as physicians prescribe, prepared by skillful pharmacists, in condensed and convenient form.

If you want the best Spring medicine you'll surely get Hood's Sarsaparilla. Hood's Pills help the liver.

Park, Thursday.—One of the first questions to be considered by the council of ten, with President Wilson participating, in the discussion, will be the boundary between Poland and Germany. The Polish Boundary Commission as well as the General Territorial Commission has virtually agreed unanimously on this boundary. NAVY YARD MEN
SCRAP OVER THEIR WORK

A navy yard workman was before Judge Shaw in the Kittery municipal court on Thursday evening charged with assault on another workman. The assault took place in the outside machine shop where both are employed.

Arthur E. Sewall appeared for the state and Samuel W. Emery for the defendant, who was found guilty and ordered to pay costs and the case turned over to Constructor Adams, industrial manager, for such discipline as he sees fit to impose.

The assault was the result of an argument over some work.

SHOE TALKS

FOOTWEAR SPECIALISTS FOR CHILDREN

Lots of little feet walk into this store. Tiny little feet, some just beginning to toddle, others that have learned the strong, imperious stride of the middle age of children. Fitting of the feet of children is one of the most important facilities of this store; we regard the shoe fitting of children as a sacred trust, for it counts for so much in later life.
